SENTINEL AND GAZETTE.

N. Y. Omnibuses.—A correspondent furnishes the Post with the following interesting statistics of public vehicles:

We have 376 licensed omnibuses now running, owned by some dozen or more different proprietors. Each omnibus costs, new, $550, making their aggregate cost $206,800. Each omnibus earns, on an average, $10 a day, and $3,000 a year. The whole earn $3,760 per day. and $1,128,000 a year. Their expenses are always rated at $5 each, per day, and $1,500 a year, making the aggregate cost of the whole $564,-000 a year. The profit, therefore, of each omnibus to its proprietor, is $5 a day, and $1,500 a year; and the nett profit of all the omnibuses in the city is $564,000. To earn $10 a day, each carriage must make 8 trips; some make 9, but 8 is the usual number, down and back, with an average of 10 fares each way. This would make, for each omnibus, 160 fares or passengers per day, and 48,000 per year. At the same rate, the whole 376 should carry 60,160 passengers daily, and 18,048,000 yearly. Thus you will perceive the number who daily take a ride in an omnibus, exceeds the largest vote ever polled by both parties at any election in this city; and the number who ride yearly, is nearly equal to the entire population of the United States in 1840.

The average length of each route is 3½ miles, making the length of a trip down and back, 7 miles. We go down 4 times in the forenoon and 4 times in the afternoon, which is equivalent to 56 miles a day, and 16,800 miles a year for each omnibus and driver, and 6,316,800 miles for the whole. A man riding up and down daily, 2 miles each way, travels 600 miles for $37 50 in the course of a year. There are 6 horses worked on each omnibus daily; on all 2,256. The distance travelled by each horse, therefore, daily, is about 19 miles. There is but one driver to an omnibus—376 in all. They receive $1 per day, wages, which is about $300 a year. Each omnibus pays a license to the city of $20 a year, from which a revenue accrues annually of $7,520.

The Last Operation.—A cattle speculator, is driving through Jersey, incorporated the loose cattle of the framers with his own drove, and sold the whole lot. The farmers are after him.—Newark Adv.

Boyd & Ledyard.—Our readers will please notice the advertisement of this firm, published in to day's paper. It speaks well for the business and advantageous terms on which a merchant will dispose of his goods, when he is disposed to let people know, through the public prints, where he is, what he has, and on what terms he will sell. We advise those of our readers who trade at Milwaukee, to call at Boyd & Ledyard's.—Janesville Gaz.

A Weighty Jury.—The Sheriff being directed to summon a Jury for the last July term of Commercial Court, served twelve gentlemen whose united weight was estimated at 4,200 lbs. On the back of the venire a note was made, signed "E. T. C." Deputy Sheriff, stating that this was the weightiest Jury ever summoned in Hamilton County.—The average weight of each man was 350 lbs. We should like to know if this can be beaten in the West.—Cin. Chron. and Atlas.
